

Graduation Is Friday

An address by a Yale professor and the conferment of two honorary degrees will climax two days of activity for this year's graduating class at Friday's commencement exercises.

Activity will begin Thursday evening when the Alumni Association will sponsor its annual Sunset Supper at the Methodist Church.

Alumni Association President Charles Lutz will be featured speaker for the event. Activities will include the induction of the Class of 1965 into the Alumni Association.

Teacher To Be Honored

Distinguished teacher of the year, Rev. August Baetke, Sociology Department, will be honored and alumni citations will be given at the supper, which is a climax to Thursday's Alumni Day activities.

Campus Job Opportunities Seem Good For Summer

Job opportunities for students on campus and in Waverly look relatively good, according to Walter Fredrick, business manager.

The college itself will have about fifty to sixty job openings available this summer ranging from office work to campus crews.

Campus crew will have from twelve to twenty-five or thirty positions. The number varies with work to be done at different times. The workers clean and repair the buildings and grounds on campus and do such things as painting, mowing, trimming and general cleaning.

Extra help will be hired during the three conventions that will be held here this summer. These jobs will entail cafeteria work, Baccalaureate will follow the supper at 8 p.m. in Chapel-auditorium. A reception for alumni, parents, graduates and friends will be held afterward in the Student Union.

Commencement will begin at 10 a.m. Friday morning in Knights Gymnasium and will be followed with the President's Luncheon at 1 p.m.

Pelikan To Speak

Dr. Jaroslav Pelikan, Titus Street Professor of Ecclesiastical History at Yale University will speak to the 261 graduates on the topic "The Gift To Be."

Degree of Doctor of Letters, honoris causa, will be conferred upon Professor Julius Bodensteck, Wartburg Theological Seminary, Dubuque, and Professor George Dell, Capital University, Columbus, Ohio.

registration for those going to the conventions and extra help in the Chapel-auditorium.

There also is secretarial and clerical work to be found in the offices, as well as more than the usual number of jobs in Waverly and the surrounding area because of the large amount of construction that will be going on this summer.

Pay for most of the jobs is one dollar per hour until July 1, when the pay will go up five cents. There are a few jobs, however, that pay more than that.

"Those interested can sign up in the Business Office," said Fredrick. "At that time students can also state their preferences as to the type of work they want to do."

Eisenhower Heard By YRs

Ten members of the campus Young Republicans visited Grinnell College, Grinnell, last Thursday in connection with the political lectureship of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Those attending were juniors Randy Palmer, Oren Swensen and Susan Kell; sophomores Allan Cady, Ellwyn Parks, Janet Horn, Janice Nelson and Jean Biere; and freshmen Doug Hart and Gayla Shepherd.

Palmer, new president of the campus Young Republicans; Swenson, past president; Miss Shepherd, new secretary-treasurer; and Miss Biere, state communications chairman, attended a private reception for Eisenhower.

A banquet was also attended by Palmer, Swenson and Miss Shepherd. All members of the delegation attended Eisenhower's public address at 8 p.m.

Biology, Chemistry Depts. Obtain Grants For Instruction Improvement

National Science Foundation and the Atomic Energy Commission have announced the selection of the Biology and Chemistry Departments as recipients of $23,900 in funds for instructional improvement.

The three grants, supplemented by matching funds from the college will prove a total of $39,800 for new equipment for teaching and research programs.

NSF awarded matching equipment grants to the two departments, $11,600 to the Chemistry Department and $4,300 to the Biology Department. These will be matched by equal amounts from the college.

AEC's grant of $8,000 was awarded jointly to the two departments and will be used to introduce principles of radioactivity into their courses.

Grant to the Chemistry Department by the NSF will enable it to implement a modernization of the entire instructional program with an emphasis on physical and theoretical concepts and on research projects at all levels of undergraduate study.

Equipment to be purchased with those funds include an infrared spectrophotometer, a visible-ultraviolet spectrophotometer, a gas chromatograph, atomic absorption and flame photometry accessories, a recording polarograph and several research glassware and equipment items.

Equipment To Be Added

Equipment to be purchased by the Biology Department includes a Warburg apparatus, a polygraph, visual education materials and a dual viewing microscope. These items will be used to improve instruction in the courses of General Physiology, Teaching Methods in Science and General Biological Science.

A NSF matching equipment grant of $9,000 was received by the Biology Department last year and these funds are currently being used to purchase such equipment as a phase microscope, an oscilloscope, a plant growth unit and a pH meter.

Joint grant will be used by the Biology Department for equipment to emphasize the biophysical and biochemical phenomena of animal cells and organ systems.

New Courses Offered

Students will be introduced to radioisotope principles and techniques in chemistry classes, and advanced techniques will be a major part of the laboratory work in a new course, Advanced Inorganic Chemistry.

Equipment to be purchased includes student and research quality Geiger and scintillation counting equipment.

Earlier in the year, Wartburg also received a grant of $250,771 from the Federal Higher Education Facilities Commission for a new science building which will be constructed in the near future.

Teacher To Join Business Department

Mrs. Muriel Moe

Mrs. Moe is married and the mother of three children.

Faculty Members Leave Wartburg

Fifteen Wartburg faculty members will be leaving after this term. Reasons for leaving vary from retirement to graduate study.

John S. Meyer, assistant professor of economics, will remain on leave at Iowa State University, Ames, and Robert E. Lee, Music Department, will continue his studies at the University of Iowa, Iowa City.

Registration Starts June 7

Registration for the 1965 summer school session will be Monday, June 7, from 8:30 a.m. - 12 noon and again from 1 p.m. - 4 p.m. in the office of the Registrar. Classes will begin the following day.

Registration materials may be picked up any time at the Registrar's Office. A list of classes offered is available in the dean of faculty's Office.

Students are encouraged to enroll as soon as possible. Miss Mattie Harms, registrar, suggests that students on campus register before they leave the campus after the completion of their semester exams.

This would give them an extra day of vacation because they would not need to be on campus until the day that classes begin, according to Miss Harms.

7 Of Faculty Are Honored

Seven faculty members were elected fellows of the Iowa Academy of Science at the annual meeting held at the University of Dubuque recently.

James Prouty, Dean Zimmerman and Clifford Wetmore, Biology Department; William Waltmann and Richard Wiederanders, Mathematics Department; David Hampton, Chemistry Department; and Millard Lee, Physics Department, are those honored.

John E. Bentley, Music Department, will attend graduate school at the University of Michigan. Professor Dave Olson, Physical Education Department, will be on leave at the University of Iowa.

Thomas Klassen, Economics Department, will also be doing graduate work, but his plans are indefinite at this time.

Dr. E. K. Tiempo and Dr. Edith Tiempo, visiting professors at Wartburg this year, will be going to the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor.

Professor Dean Zimmerman, Biology Department, will be studying at Purdue University, Lafayette, Ind.

Dr. Katherine Love and Dr. Virgil A. Warren, both of the Language Department, will move to other colleges. Dr. Love has accepted a teaching position at Simpson College, Indianola.

Dr. Warren will teach at Central Methodist College, located in Fayette, Mo.

Mrs. Margaret Hemingway, English Department, and Mrs. Gloria Hansen, Business Department, will be leaving and will not be teaching next year.

Coach Fred Jaspers, Physical Education Department, and Donald G. Douglas and Mrs. Douglas, Speech Department, will also be leaving. Jaspers does not have any definite plans at the present time. Mr. and Mrs. Douglas will be head of the Speech Department at California Lutheran College, Thousand Oaks, Cal.

Exams Take Toll

Semester exams are starting to take their toll. These freshmen girls have found the best way to relieve tension is to take a cool walk around the fish pond. And for those who don't agree with their method, they demonstrate a simple solution.

Editorial

Another Year Is Over

It's been quite a year, hasn't it? Many of us probably find it hard to believe that another year of college life is nearly completed. And for some of us, the year marks the completion of a college education--the attainment of a degree.

Looking over issues of the Trumpet during the past year, one finds that the year has been filled with many traditional events. Homecoming brought alumni back to the campus. Christmas at Wartburg brought the spirit of that holiday to the campus. And Snow Weekend had more than the usual amount of snow for a change.

There were Squire Days, when reluctant frosh withstood the rigors of the fishpond and upper-class commands for two weeks. The same group is now preparing similar tortures for next year's freshman class. And there were fall and spring Outflies, when hordes of hungry students stormed picnic areas and parks in the vicinity for a day of relaxation.

Issues Exist

There were issues, too. Issues like faculty evaluation, which carry over from year to year. Issues like the food service, which are always handy when conversation lags. There was a rousing student body presidential campaign, which brought many students closer to the issues of student government.

The year also saw the inauguration of a new president for Wartburg College -- a president who has proven himself to be more than capable of the position he holds.

Funds were gathered from the student body to help furnish the library of the proposed science hall. And in the spring work began on a new men's dormitory.

Romance Blossoms

Trumpet personal columns showed that the year brought romance to the many persons whose names filled the engagement and marriage columns. And faculty notes reported the honors and awards faculty members had received during the year.

Yes, it has been quite a year, a year jam-packed with studying and activities, with hard work and fun. For those of us who will return next year, we can look forward to another year that will certainly be similar in many ways to this one.

And for those of us graduating, we can pack the last four years into our memory to look back upon in years to come and to recall that these years contained some of the best -- and worst -- experiences of our lives.

It's not the finals that bother us so much, it's just studying for them.

What's the jubilation for? It all starts again in three months.

Sleeping is more than a necessity at a liberal arts college -- it's a fine art!

Happiness is waking up in the morning, realizing you don't have any tests or classes and going back to sleep.

Studying and completing semester exams is somewhat of a guessing game -- first, the student must guess what to study; then he must guess what to answer.

There's nothing quite like the last day of school to make one realize how much he has enjoyed it.

Now we can rest from four hours daily in classes by spending eight hours daily at a summer job.

It isn't fair that we had to tear our hair out over class schedules and semester tests at the same time!

Human Relations Association Makes Presence Known, Felt In Waverly, On Wartburg Campus

By KATIE MAAHS

"It provides a forum for the people of Waverly who are concerned with human relations so that they can earnestly talk about these problems with one another," explained Pastor Herman Diers, chaplain for Wartburg College.

"The basic human problem is getting along with people. We tend to categorize and lack the capacity to treat others as people. In the nation today the most serious problem is the racial problem and I hope the Human Relations Association will be able to help on this problem."

Recently organized, the Human Relations Association is quietly making its presence felt both in the city of Waverly and on the Wartburg College campus.

Half Are College Students

At the last meeting of the organization, more than half of those attending were college students. This group is important, according to Diers, because it is the only one in Waverly that consists of both students and townspeople.

Student Body President Bill Hamm wants "to try to get students involved in the organization as it now stands" and eventually to have a membership drive on campus.

Diers said the association can accomplish a few major things.

For example, a group went to a meeting in Waterloo where telegrams were sent to Alabama and to Congress as a gesture of their indignation of the maltreatment of Negroes in Selma.

The organization can also provide financial support for legal defense required by members of the civil rights drive. This financial support will be encouraged and hopefully multiplied in Waverly.

Title Significant

Title of the organization is significant because it is a human relations and not a race relations association that deals with all types of human problems.

"It is easy to categorize people into certain groups, minority and majority groups. Here in Waverly we categorize college students and townspeople, but we have to get along with them."

"We categorize people into various nationalities, but we have to get along with them too," emphasized Diers.

Kriesel Views Problem

Robert Kriesel, religion instructor and Wartburg Seminary senior, said he believes that this is "strictly a relation problem, not a Negro voting problem, but one between Negroes and whites, between the majority and minority groups."

"I was never concerned about the racial problem until I went to Selma. I went there to learn, not to be a civil rights worker."

"I KNOW I'VE COMPLAINED A LOT ABOUT TH' FOOD HERE, BUT NOW THAT I'M ABOUT READY TO GRADUATE I'M BEGINNING TO LIKE IT."

"When I came back to the Wartburg campus, I was at first struck by the apparent apathy of the students toward this problem."

"Now I think I really shouldn't have been struck by it because most of us are from the North and don't really understand, although there is a relations problem all over the country," Kriesel said.

Students Go To Selma

"Seeing this as a relations problem, I believe the Christian faith has something important to say here. It is specifically a Christian problem as far as the injustice to other humans is concerned," continued Kriesel.

Kriesel said he believes that Martin Luther King is basically a Christian thinker, although sometimes he sounds like a humanitarian. As a humanitarian, he attracts a lot of people who are not Christian.

Love Is Basis

"The basis for an answer to this problem is Christian love. Even if it is humanitarian we still have to use Christian morality," said Kriesel.

According to Diers, the constitution of the organization does not mention any religious affiliation. Any person who is concerned may join.

What Do We Do?

"The question now is what do we do? There are many things that can be done and it is helpful to have Wartburg students going into the inner city who can come back to the campus."

"Do we go into the inner cities or do we just sit back? There are always minority groups in our own cities that should not be ignored."

"The world is becoming more and more apart insofar as the relationships between people are

Inertia Evidenced

An example of its near inertia is that it has taken Wartburg until 1965, after being in existence for 113 years, to graduate an American Negro.

"Every individual has to decide to which side he belongs. It is important to be ready for this problem and to think about it before it becomes a problem," concluded Kriesel.

Drama Awards Presented Monday During Alpha Psi Omega Banquet

Dramatic awards were presented at the annual Alpha Psi Omega banquet which was held Monday, May 17, at 6:30 p.m. Eleven initiates were received into the fraternity following the banquet.

Juniors Roger Baumgardner and Norma Gray were presented the Best Actor and Best Actress Awards respectively. Baumgardner, of Peoria, Ill., won his award in conjunction with his role in "The Crucible."

Miss Gray, of Sabula, was recognized for her role in "Lo And Behold."

Supporting Roles Cited

Supporting Actor and Actress Awards went to senior Gaylord Odegaard and Darlene Wesenberg. Odegaard, from Scranton, N. D., received recognition for his role in "The Zoo Story." Her role in "The Crucible"

Admissions Dept. Expects 425 Fresh

Admissions Office has received second deposits from 380 prospective 1965 freshmen, according to Victor Pinke, admissions director.

The office expects about 45 more applications for a total of 425 next fall.

One hundred more students have applied for freshman admittance than at the same time a year ago.

Frothing Pen Reviews Year

By DICK McCABE

So passes another year of un-filled academic promises. I believe I'm going to lapse into what journalists call frothing at the pen and regress into the past two semesters here on the Wartburg campus.

September found me wandering around campus between the mobile Levitown next to the practice football field and the piranha-infested fishpond, hoping my parents were home from bringing me here so they could write and tell me how everything was.

October found my supply of tears, adrenalin, pride and clean socks quite exhausted. I employed my talents in creating an 11th-place dorm float for Homecoming, which bit the dust at the hand of some esthetically nauseated pyromaniacs.

November was the month the student body project was to inquire into the possibility of getting Smoky the Bear to be North Hall's housemother, and the same month I gave a talk to WRA on the Fascist control of the pass, punt and kick contest.

Basketball practice started about this time, and it wasn't long before I was elected OGICOMSTHD ATGWTRTTAAG (that stands for "official guy in charge of making sure the Huns don't attack the gym while the rest of the team is at away-games").

I was also voted the least likely to be able to touch the net by the end of the season.

December was the month I spent six hours ice-fishing on the fishpond, catching only the flu, which Sherlock Shinn tried to make me put back for its being out of season.

Right before Christmas, the deacon on our floor tried to excommunicate me for promoting the probability of the spiritual existence of fairy godmothers, and participating in a garbage disposal maneuver which was eventually labeled "food riot."

happened. First, my roommate spent two days in the local hospital for injuries received when he threw a trainer wheel while dragging one of the high school delinquents down Bremer Avenue.

Second, after my semester grades were in, the English Department decided I not only needed a tutor, but an interpreter.

February was the month that the kitchen crew had to take botulism off the menu because someone tipped off the administration that malnutrition isn't a virtue.

In March I received word that my mother had won the neighborhood title "Mom of the Decade" and was awarded a purple heart. I took the matter so personally, I wrote home in protest, but my letter came back stamped "Moved."

This was also the month some automation-aided lumber jacks went out on a limb and mutilated anything that looked like something a bird might want to make a nest on.

April came in like a lion, and after three consecutive meals at Roy's during the final week, I have no idea how it went out. Early in the month I discovered a building on campus.

I ran over and told the dean, who comfortingly explained to me that it had been there all the time, thanks to Mr. Homuth.

This being May and with exams in the process, I'm not sure whether I'm going to turn into a vegetable or just become a manic-depressive.

I would have gone to the Prom but no one asked me, and I might have gone to convo the first week if I'd have known ahead of time that there was going to be a demonstration for the benefit of the spectators at next year's harvest.

If the guys aboard the Thresher think they were in a tight spot, they should have tried standing in the lobby waiting to pre-register.

With Linda Stull's, Mrs. Garland's, Jim Folkert's and Elom's forgiveness, I'd like to say that I've enjoyed blowing on the "Trumpet," and that the staff will get my bill shortly from the local Writers' Union 784. Ten-four.

won honor for Miss Wesenberg, who is from Beaver Dam, Wis. Senior Carol Arendt won the Technical Award for her various activities throughout the season. Miss Arendt is from Midlothian, Ill.

Sandberg Award Given

The Sandberg Memorial Award went to senior Kathy Bishop, of Chicago. This award goes to the student who shows the best service, scholarship and loyalty in drama.

John Gill, director of the Wartburg Theatre, and Miss Erna Moehl, English Department, administered the initiation ceremonies which followed the banquet.

Initiated into Alpha Psi Omega were seniors Kathryn Becker, Kathy Bishop, Robert Bone, Daniel Moeller and Darlene Wesenberg; juniors Norma Gray, Marsha Myers and Ann Wesender; and sophomores Mary Jane Koob, James Ludwig and Allen Lyndrup.

22 Graduates Secure Jobs In Business, Social Work

Thirteen seniors have secured jobs in business and nine will be entering social work, according to Melvin Kramer, Business Department, and Mrs. Lola Reppert, Social Work Department.

Four January graduates are associated with large companies. Dahn Garrison is working on institutional sales for the Rath Packing Co.

Three others are working as management trainees. Gerald Franzen works for Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co., Gary Medlang is with the J. C. Penney Co., and Bob Nelson works for Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing Co.

Nine Have Business Jobs

Nine other men who will graduate next week will also enter the field of business.

John McKee will take over as regional manager of Rushmore Mutual Life Insurance Co., while Jerold Voss will work for a social work agency.

Three will work as management trainees for Associates Investment Co. They are Chuck Ditto, Bob Holdorf and Bill Westphal.

Other management trainees are Dennis Bigelow with Bankers Like Insurance Co., Bob Braun for Jewel Tea Co., Faber Miller with the Hormel Co. and Leigh Peitsch for Wilson Sporting Goods Co.

Social Workers Enter Field

In the social work field, January graduate Delma Froidcoeur has been working for the Cook County Department of Social Welfare in Illinois.

Three May graduates will be working for county welfare services. They are Donald Claussen, Butler County, and Kay Grussing and Jan Schmidt, Linn County.

Selmar Knutson will do public welfare work in Minnesota. Iris Koehler will be doing the same in Wisconsin. Sharon Hampton will enter the Iowa Child Welfare Service.

Pearl Liecker will enter the Illinois Lutheran Church Social Service, River Forest. Joyce Perschke will work at the Area Child and Youth Service, Williamson, N. D.

KWAR Manager Announces Staff

Executive Staff appointments for KWAR-FM in the coming 1965-66 season have been announced by Keith Henrichs, station manager.

Working as assistants to Henrichs are freshman Tom Thompson for programming operations and sophomore Dave Smith as chief engineer.

In charge of particular departments are juniors Bill Glitz and Chuck Ciorba in news and special events; sophomore Mark Holtz, sports; freshman Ruth Tillmanns, continuity director; junior Nels Beckman, business manager; sophomore Art Alt, music director, assisted by sophomore Dennis Dorwick in classical music.

Junior Norma Gray, here seen in her role in the play "Lo And Behold," was given the Best Actress Award at Monday evening's theatre awards banquet.

Seventy-One Graduates Accept Teaching Jobs

math, Monticello; and Bob Bone, speech, Cresco.

Other Secondary Teachers

Also Pat Tiffany, business, Gilbert; Jane Voigts, social studies, Oelwein; Shirley Zellmer, English, Marble Rock; Paul Zietlow, math, Sumner.

Kent Dahlquist, general science, Eldora; Lois Dietz, Boone; and Maurice Sathoff, business, Walker.

Secondary teachers who have accepted positions in other states are Cliff Cameron, history, Frost, Minn.; Lora Froehlich, English, Manitowoc, Wis.; Joanne Johnson, English, Denver, Colo.; Betty Kalkwarf, German, Salt Lake City, Utah; Katherine Lewellen, English, Manitowoc, Wis.; Carlton Johnson, business, Waukesha, Wis.; Barb Matthias, business, Chaffey Union, Cal.; and Myrna Kluitier, English, Palatine, Ill.

Music Teachers Get Jobs

Music teachers signing contracts are George Curtis, Wykoff, Minn.; Grace Hemingway, Midlothian, Ill.; Richard Koehler, Titonka; and Mary Ann Stille, Parkersburg.

Accepting positions in physical education departments are Marlene Boyken, Plainfield; Barb Burke, Salt Lake City, Utah; Ardis Janssen, Platteville, Wis.

Barb Nuss, Saydel; Barb Ruprich, Forest City; Jerry Schrader, Atlantic; and Cheryl Sorensen, Osage.

HARRISON'S

Outstanding Individuals Lead Thinclads To 2nd

Wartburg retained its second place position among the Iowa Conference track teams at Decorah last weekend and brought home a trophy for the accomplishment.

On top was Luther with 69 1/3 points. Knight's second came on 38 1/3 while Central finished in third with 31 1/3 counters.

Fourth through eighth spots went to Dubuque with 30, Buena Vista with 23, William Penn with 17 1/2, Simpson with 10 and Upper Iowa University with 5 1/2.

Points are scored on a 5-4-3-2-1 basis with ties splitting the points for the position in which they tied.

Outstanding Performances

Outstanding performances were displayed by sophomore Jack Fistler and junior Jerry Zehr. Zehr placed in five events, scoring 11 of the Knights' 38 1/3 points. His personal point total topped that of two other schools entered in the meets.

Zehr pulled in five of his markers with a first in the javelin. His toss of 186' 8" topped that of Chuck Henry of William Penn. Zehr has been throwing the javelin for only a month.

Rest of his points came with a fourth in the broad jump and pole vault, a fifth in the 220-yard low hurdles and a point for one lap of the Knights' second place record - breaking relay squad.

Fistler Pulls In First

Fistler pulled in a first in the 220 lows, a third in the 100-yard dash and was awarded a point for his lap in the relay event to account for his nine points.

Other placings showed sophomore Laird Yock with a first in the high jump with a leap of 6' 1/2". He currently holds the school record at 6' 2 3/4".

Jim Fliehler managed a third in the pole vault when he cleared 12' 6", and Lowell Syverson placed third in the broad jump at 21' 1 1/2".

Thieman Places Fourth

Freshman Jon Thieman placed fourth in the mile run, Gary Williams fourth in the 440-yard dash, Tom Baumgarten fifth in the two mile, and Joel Niemann tied for fifth in the high jump.

Knights Harold Shudlick, Gary Williams, Jerry Zehr and Jack Fistler were the legmen in the mile relay team which broke the school record with a time of 3:22.0.

Relay team finished second in the meet, but gave winning Luther a good scare throughout the race. Norse time was 3:20.4.

Olson Pleased

Coach Dave Olson said after the meet, which ended the season, that he was well pleased with the entire season and this year's squad.

"We had our share of setbacks, and we had our share of good things happen," he said.

Those "good things" include seven school records which were broken or set during the past year. The 880-yard dash, high jump, 440 - yard dash and mile relay records all fell to new marks.

Three new events were recorded in the books. Among these are the triple jump, 60-yard low hurdles and the 330-yard intermediate hurdles.

Most Improved Player Cited

Olson named Jack Fistler as "most improved" athlete in track this year. Fistler's total points scored last year amounted to 28 3/4. This year shows him with 91 3/4.

With 12 of the 15 lettermen returning next year, Olson says the prospects look good. He did not make any predictions as to the outcome of the season, however.

Seniors not returning include Tom Baumgarten, Joel Niemann and Harold Shudlick. Shudlick holds the records in the high hurdles and the 440-yard dash.

Wartburg Knights baseball team keeps swinging in a game against SCI last Tuesday but the hitting could not make up for the many errors.

Errors Hurt Knights In 12-5 Loss with a 3-8 record. The Knights were 0-6 in the conference; a last place record.

Errors hurt Wartburg again on Tuesday, and fielding was supposed to be the Knight's big plus this year. Lynn Butterbrodt was sailing along with a 1-1 tie in the sixth inning when two errors opened the gates.

"Brodt" then uncorked a wild pitch with runners on first and third to put SCI ahead. Tom Simpson of the Panthers followed with a shot over the fence, and the Cedar Falls gang was on its way. John Hearn, who came on fast with his hitting as the year progressed, homered in the game for Wartburg.

Last Saturday, Wartburg's scheduled doubleheader with Simpson was rained out. Ten conference ballgames were washed away by the weatherman this year, and the Knights lost 12 games in all to poor weather.

Gary Ludvigson ended up the year as the top hitter for Coach

Earnest Oppermann. Ludvigson hit at a .297 clip. John Mantey followed with .290, while John Hearn checked in with .286.

Roger Baumgardner headed the list of pitchers with a 1.80 earned run average, mostly in relief. Dennis Bowman had a 2.61 ERA, and Dave Walters finished with a 2.79.

As a team, the Knights hit .239 compared to their opponents' .281. Their fielding percentage was .921, while the opposition had a .931. In pitching, Wartburg had a catastrophic earned run average of 4.59, while the "bad guys" had a 3.60 against Wartburg batting.

Seniors Begin Grad Study Next Fall At Many Colleges

Thirty-one seniors will begin graduate work in the fall of 1965. Graduate programs are arranged through individual departments and include teaching assistantships, graduate assistantships and regular graduate work.

Barbara Rose, Dumas, Tex., has accepted a teaching assistantship at the University of Oklahoma, Norman, Okla. Barb is an English major. Owen Jordahl, Lake Mills, will attend the University of Utah, Salt Lake City, Utah.

Terry Dahlquist, Cosmos, Minn., will attend Kansas State University, Lawrence, Kan. He is a math major.

Strayer At Language School

Joel Strayer, Delphos, Ohio, will attend a language school connected with Syracuse University, Syracuse, N.Y. The program is sponsored by the Air Force. Harry Jebsen, a history major from Blue Island, Ill., will study at the University of Cincinnati.

Bill Mantei, Milwaukee, Wis., will do work in philosophy at the University of Wisconsin, Madison. Bill is under an assistantship program.

23 Others Do Grad Work

Business, psychology, biology and social work majors doing graduate work total 23.

Following biology majors will be studying under research assistantships: Nancy Rahn, Wausau, Wis., University of Wisconsin; Arlo Raim, Fairbank, West Michigan University, Kalamazoo, Mich.

Duane Schlitter, Waverly, Kansas University; Jon Witgert, Ames, Tulane University, New Orleans, and Gordon Meisgeier, Oelwein, Iowa State University, Ames.

2 Receive Biology Assistantships

Two biology majors will receive teaching assistantships. James Gronewold, Manchester, will study at the University of Texas, and Arlyn Ristau will attend Arizona State University at Tempe, Arizona.

Three biology majors will be

New Face Is Scheduled For Old Hall

Wartburg Hall will receive a new face this summer, according to Walter Fredrick, business manager. It will be the first time since it was built in 1913 that any type of major renovation work has been done on the building.

Process will take about two weeks. It will begin with sandblasting, then tuck - pointing, which entails removing the old mortar and replacing it with new.

Building will be covered with two coats of water-proofing and the windows will be recaulked. Certain portions of the interior will also be replastered and painted.

"We hope to make the building look like new and preserve it," said Fredrick. "The vines will be removed and soiled spots taken out of the bricks. The contractor has even agreed to replace the broken bricks on the facade with good ones," commented Fredrick.

studying the related fields of medicine and dentistry. John Skillicorn, Wauwatosa, Wis., will study dentistry at University of Minnesota.

John Adams, Racine, Wis., will study medicine at the University of Wisconsin, and Roger Wright, a junior from Waverly, will study medicine at the University of Iowa. Wright was accepted on the basis of his work up to the end of his junior year.

Two Study Business

Dave Fredrick and Jerome Hemenway will be doing graduate work in business. Fredrick, from Waverly, will be working in Great Barrington, Mass. He will be under the American Institute for Economic Research program. Hemenway will attend the University of Florida, at Gainesville, Fla.

David Kildahl, Waverly, will be training at IBM in Minneapolis, Minn.

Four psychology majors will do advanced study. Brian Kruger, Waverly, will attend the University of Iowa. Harry Rollings, Colorado Springs, Colo., will study at the University of Northern Illinois, DeKalb, Ill.

Gary Evans, Humboldt, will attend Fort Hays College, Hays, Kan., and Roger Sherman, Nora Springs, will attend the University of Iowa.

Sandra Stiehm, Schofield, Wis., will do graduate work in the library science school at the Florida State University, Tallahassee.

Social Work Majors Included

Seven social work majors will be doing advanced work. Gerald Baldner, St. Ansgar, the University of Utah, Salt Lake City; Ruth Darnauer, Goodland, Kan., Denver University, Denver, Colo.; Dave Hutson, Sibley, Ill., Tulane University.

Gary Huth, Des Moines, University of Washington, St. Louis, Mo., in the George Warren Brown Social Work School; John Thalacker, Tripoli, Tulane University; Verlyn Wendt, Wyoming, the University of Illinois at the Jane Adams School of Social Work.

Three seniors will represent the sociology department. Richard Dunn, Waupun, Wis., will attend the University of Pittsburgh, Pittsburgh, Penn. Joel Wright, Nevada, will study at Iowa State University, Ames. Mike Becker, Racine, Wis., will go to Arizona State University, Tempe, Arizona.

Senate Plans Book Sale

Plans are now being made for a Senate book sale to be held next fall, according to Student Body President Bill Hamm.

Book cases will be set up in the Senate Room where students may place their used books and display them at their own prices.

Someone will supervise the book sale at all times so that students may purchase used books if they wish. A record will be kept of the original owners of the books, and if they are sold, owners will receive the amount charged for the book.

Book sale will be carried out for the convenience of buyers and sellers of used books. Tentative plans of the Senate are to charge a small fee, possibly 10¢, to pay those persons supervising the sale and any other costs.

Chairman for the sale is junior Liz Seidel.

5 Choices Listed For Pops Concert

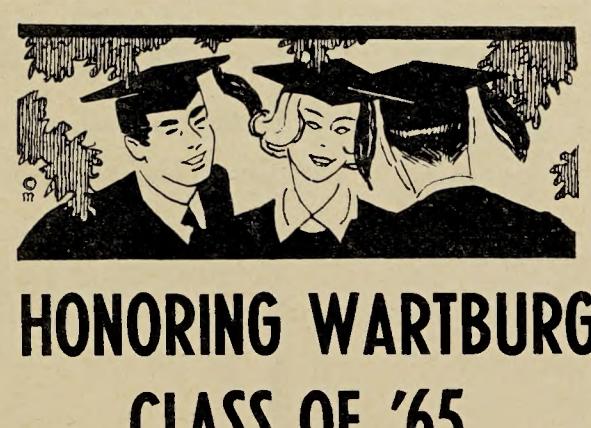

Five top choices for the fall pops concert, chosen by the student body at convocation May 11 are, in order of preference, New Christy Minstrels; Peter, Paul and Mary; Henry Mancini; Chad Mitchell Trio and Roger Williams.

Contract negotiations are now being made with these five groups in the order of preference expressed on the ballot, according to freshman Russell Talbot, chairman of the Fall Pops Concert.

Final selection will be based upon the time available and the price of the various groups.

Pops concerts for the past two years have featured such celebrities as The Smothers Brothers, Al Hirt, Count Basie and The Kingston Trio.

Speaker, Special Awards Features Of Sports Banquet

An address by Wayne Lichtry and numerous special awards were the highlights of the Wartburg College Sixth Annual Spring All-Sports Banquet held in the cafeteria Wednesday evening.

Lichtry, a Big Eight Conference official from Waterloo and one of two Americans selected to go to Tokyo to referee the 1964 Olympics basketball tournament, narrated many colorful slides of his memorable visit and participation in the Tokyo Olympics.

Lichtry commented that his Olympic experience was "the highlight of my career."

Athletes Recognized

Prior to the presentation of special awards, recognition was given to those athletes in the four spring sports and to the cheerleaders.

Inscribed track baton awards were given to Harold Shudlick for being chosen captain of this year's track team, and to Jack Fistler for being chosen as "most improved" on the squad.

Paul Zeitlow was honored with the Voecks Trophy, while Harold Shudlick won the Hertel Medal.

Senior award blankets went to Jerry Schrader, Paul Zeitlow, Cliff Cameron, Dale Fridley and Arlyn Ristau for their outstanding athletic leadership while at Wartburg.

Johansen Receives Blanket

Coach Norm Johansen was also a recipient of a W-Club blanket for his contribution to past Wartburg football teams.

"Coach of the Year Award" was won by Roger Klingman, presently a football coach at Nashua. Klingman graduated from Wartburg in 1958.

Banquet was concluded by the singing of the Wartburg loyalty song.

Wartburg Poets Win Five Prizes

Wartburg students won five of the top six places in the Iowa Poetry Day Association Contest.

Senior Karen Elwood won the contest's first prize of five dollars. Junior Ann Suchy won the two dollar third prize award.

Freshmen Richard Hauck, Mary Smith and Richard Bartell received first, second and third honorable mention prizes, respectively, in the contest.

Choir Is Off To Tour Europe At End Of Week

Twenty-nine concerts in five European countries are on the agenda for the Wartburg Choir, beginning June 1 and ending July 4. The choir will leave New York City next Sunday for a 35-day tour of Germany, Austria, Switzerland, France and the Netherlands.

For the choir and everyone concerned with the tour, the last few months have been filled with shots, passports, plans and excitement. Choir members will sing a "Bon Voyage" concert tonight at 8 p.m., in the Chapel-auditorium. A reception will follow.

Pictures on the bulletin board and a map from Germany will soon become reality for choir members touring Europe this summer. One member of the group points out the location of one of the choir concerts.

After a year of preparation, all systems--and all members--for the choir's trip abroad are go.

Getting ready for a tour isn't all fun, either. Many long hours of practice and preparation have been involved for both choir members and their director, Dr. Edwin Liemohn.
